ONE becomes IRIDIUM System Integrator and Reseller

ONE has become an official integrator and reseller of Iridium services in conjunction with providing systems integrations services of Iridium based products. The unique requirements of individual customers for satellite communications systems using the Iridium based products and the ONE ONEuP architecture is a perfect fit for ONE. The commercial and civilian sectors are in high demand for systems using the Iridium satellite constellation along with the strength of the ONE ONEuP system architecture.
